A NEW STAR

FOR OLD GLORY.

Utah's Constitution has been framed; her people will adopt it in November, and soon thereafter the President will and soon thereafter the President will issue his proclamation, and the great Territory—the history of which so well illustrates the potency of patience, persistence and faith, and within which was first raised on the Western Slope the standard of civilization—will be admitted to all of the purpless of a severe mitted total of the privileges of a sover-

It will be a happy day for Utah—a happy day for the nation—the day Utah shakes from her supple limbs the tram mels of territorial life, and with her supple limbs the trambel of territorial life, and with her dowery of wealth and brains is received into the family of states. Then public into the new sover, a divine power rules the destiny of an answer to the question, "What have you within your borders for the making cents per year. Send"

of a great commonwealth?" How little should Utah be abushed by this inquiry ? No western state ever entered the Union after a longer period of preparation or with more splendid men or resource. Utan has 250 000 people trained and osciplined to the tasks of industry. Uran has a chain of fertile valleys extending from Idaho to Arizona under a system of irrigation as perfect as any in the world-valleys rimmed by treasure filled mountains, and checkered with title tarms, whereon, in many instances for nearly half a century, has been exemplified in the prefection of hus-

In one good mine alone, the Merbasis of half a million a year, while in the Mercur District, infinitesimal in comparison with other mining districts, there is a cluster of pure gold bearing proper-ties that aggregates in value many mill-ions of Dullers. In the light of these figures, is it upressonable to assert that Utah is one of the greatest mining re-gions in the United States? Where else can you find so many precious metals, so many meneral or use in the arts and in commerce, and in such great bulk? There is even gold in the water of the Great Salt Lake and health in the air son respectively of Pretty Prairie are under arrest, charged with beating Mrs. Parr the wife and mother of the arms and fruitful. Almost every conceivable resource in the shape of raw material is within the reach of the manufacturer. If this is an age of progress as has been asserted, then Utah affords Thursday evening, but on Friday gave the opportunity to expand and increase

> Utah has pastoral resources of nulimited possibilities. It simply needs limited possibilities. It is no more or heavier laden vines and fruit trees gladden the heart and pocket of sunbrowned husbandman than the hundred fold harvests of this fair land. No greener pastures ever feasteh a herd of thriving cattle and no soil her proved more inexhaustible than this. Water in abundance just when and where needed and fresh and pure from its mountain

If all of these possessions are factors in the growth of a great state, then the new state of Utah may face the future without a tremor.
